Reports

The Village Newsletter

Mayor Genthner would like to send the newsletter out next week before the Festival. A separate sheet will be enclosed which will cover Casella's policies and how the automation works on their trucks. The policy includes pick up for one large item per month. The Newsletter will also inform residents about purchasing commemorative bricks for Vosler Park.

The Town & Village Website

The new Website is online and the Town of Livonia picked up the cost for the new start up service.

Mural

A new mural is being considered for the side of the Sullivan Insurance building. Louise Wadsworth told Mayor Genthner that she would be able to roll over the remaining grant money from this year and combine it with available money next year. Some repairs will be necessary before the mural is painted. A committee will need to be formed. Trustee Annette Meade volunteered. Bill Kurtz will ask his wife, Betsy, if she is interested. The Village may pay for scaffolding and paint. The owners of the building have suggested a "Lake Life" theme.

Meadow Drive

Attorney Peter Skivington informed Mayor Genthner that he is waiting for a reply from Attorney Hirt, regarding a decision by JoAnn Backus.

The new construction of Doug Rickett's house is progressing nicely.

Livonia Central School District has finished paving the Parking Lot.
